Description

MedXchange is the first blockchain-enabled system for the global medical device industry. According to the U.S. Department of Commerce, the global medical device industry size was approximately $340 Billion in 2016, and will grow to $435 Billion in 2020. MedXchange will allow the suppliers (“Sell-side Users” on the MedXchange platform) of medical devices to directly and securely transact with patients and end customers (“Buy-side Users” on the MedXchange platform), reducing delivered medical supply costs globally and making much needed medical devices more affordable for patients and end users, while at the same time improving margins for beleaguered medical device manufacturers. This will improve quality of life and save lives, while enhancing the long term viability and innovative vibrancy of medical device companies. Transactions on the MedXchange system will exclusively be facilitated by our MedCash (MEDCASH) token. MedCash (MEDCASH) will also be what funds the miners and data silos. The currency can also be used to activate smart contracts or trade for keys. Also, hospitals, clinics and GPOs (Group Purchasing Organizations) will be able to deploy their supplier contracts on MedXchange as self-executing smart contracts. And MedCash can act as a product token to foster innovation and commercialization of medical technologies (think “Kickstarter for Medical Technologies). After the initial introduction to the medical device industry, MedXchange will be also marketed to other regulated health care ecosystems, such as pharmaceuticals, laboratory equipment, and services, as the platform will be developed to be scalable and flexible from the outset.
